The New England Rural Health Association (NERHA) announces a job opportunity for a full-time Executive Director. The NERHA, a 501(c)(3) non-profit membership organization, is the rural health association for the six New England states. The Executive Director serves as the face of the NERHA, working closely with the Board of Directors, diverse rural healthcare organizations throughout New England, the National Rural Health Association, state and federal government officials, and the NERHA membership. The successful candidate will be responsible for overseeing all aspects of the organization, ensuring that it operates efficiently and effectively to meet its organizational goals. The Executive Director is responsible for project oversight, fiscal management, personnel and strategic management, board/member engagement, policy direction, conference planning, and external liaison activities. The ideal candidate will be an organized self-starter who can accomplish their work remotely from a home-based office, including supervision of two remote employees. Some travel is required, as needed, to represent the NERHA at regional and national events. Qualifications include:

- Master's Degree preferred, in Nonprofit Management, Public Policy or equivalent
- Six years senior nonprofit management experience
- Technological proficiency and ability to learn to use technological platforms in support of the work of the NERHA, including office productivity tools, remote meeting and event software, and other online systems
- Understanding of and experience with capacity-building programs
- Fundraising, government relations, and grant application experience
- Supervisory and personnel management experience
- Financial management experience, including budget development and management
- Experience working with a Board of Directors
- Evidence of commitment to missions of the nonprofit sector and serving rural health populations
- Strong organizational skills and ability to multitask and focus on multiple priorities
- Experience with healthcare, particularly in the rural context
- Regional knowledge and experience preferred
- Excellent interpersonal and communication skills and ability to effectively engage with partners and members, and ability to build relationships with a wide range of organizations and individuals
- Reside in one of the six states making up the NERHA region

Compensation includes competitive salary of $80-$100K based on qualifications, with additional allowance for benefits.

Please submit a cover letter and CV by 2/28/22. Applications may be sent to admin@newenglandrha.org. Please include "ATTENTION: ED SEARCH" in the subject line.

The New England Rural Health Association was established in 1997 with the mission to improve the health and wellbeing of communities throughout rural New England. Our vision is that the Association serves as the forum for promoting healthy rural communities and solutions to the unique health challenges facing rural New England. We strive to accomplish this by being a unified voice for rural health needs, by providing education about and advocating for rural health and by encouraging networking and collaboration in support of rural health goals throughout the region.

The New England Rural Health Association is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to the belief that each individual is entitled to equal employment opportunity.
